

Employment Opportunity: Voice Faculty

Attacca School of Music is seeking an experienced Voice Faculty Member to take over an established Tuesday teaching studio from September 2026, who is interested in a long-term professional teaching home, is passionate about student growth and building a lasting studio, and is excited to become an active member of a vibrant musical community.

About Attacca

Attacca School of Music is a community of dedicated faculty, families, and students committed to thoughtful, high-quality music education. Our goal is to help students of all ages develop strong musicianship, confidence, discipline, and a lifelong appreciation for music through private lessons, chamber music, group classes, workshops, frequent performances, and community events.

We believe excellent teaching comes from educators who are continually refining their pedagogy, collaborating with colleagues, and investing in meaningful relationships with students and families.
